

Let's be specific

What do I mean by let's be specific? On our journey on how to communicate with the Holy Spirit, we need to dive into what's in our bodies. Your body is a school bus. Your behavior either picks up passengers or is dropping off passengers. It's a big bus and can hold dozens of passengers. It's ok to laugh, I did!

There are thoughts in your head that have been with you since you were a child. They are familiar. Don't just listen to the thought, start paying attention to how the thought sounds. Angry, smooth, calm, intense. Is the thought soft, gruff, high pitched, concerned etc. All this time you thought it was just you. Actually it is you with passengers.

Ok kids, fun exercise! I want you to say each word out loud three times with a ten second pause in between them. Examine how you are feeling! Ready...

God

Christ

Savior

Lord

Now do the same thing for these words.

Yahweh

Yeshua

Jesus

Lucifer

Did you feel the difference? The first four are general titles and are not offensive. You and your passengers are cool with those words. The second set can be offensive to you and your passengers cause they are specific beings. That's why all the turmoil starts in your body. With spirits the lines in the sand and loyalty's are clearly defined! 1 Corinthians 12:3. Let push it further!

Jesus is the one true king!

Yahweh is the great I AM!

Jesus is king of kings and lord of lords!

I love Jesus!

I rebuke Lucifer!

It's ok to feel like you need a tums right now! As we forge our authority in Jesus THE Christ We need to verbally put our line in the sand and state who has our loyalty. That's what starts you on the narrow path cause your loyalty is for one father, one son and one friend.

If you had a lot of turmoil stirred up inside. Click on the library and get the door closing prayer and kick some passengers off the bus!
