

Testing Forgiveness

I had a scary thought today...

I have put a lot of excerpts from all kinds of ministries on this website and what if this website goes beyond my friends then, I am in a lot of trouble!

I could rewrite everything on this website and pass it off as mine but I see this website as an opportunity to show that all parts of the body of Christ are vital to the edification of a believer.

Every church I have attended has a culture of team. Team “Baptist” talks crap about team “First E Free” and so on. The truth is that all denominations have value.

What started this mess in the first place was the fact that I was sick of making copies. Making copies! For years, the back of my 06 Rabbit was full of Bibles, books and stacks of paper for every situation. I would skip lunch to spend it at Kinkos. Then came the idea!

I made a website back in 2006 www.friendsofkristi.com that has just sat idle in the World Wide Web for years. I thought, I should make a website with everything that is in my car. It will be an easy reference for me and my friends when talking to people. You need a promise of God or a door closing prayer...grab your phone and BINGO!

In this library is a book called “A simple method of prayer”. It is really old. Really really old. It was written to her friends so they could have the same closeness to God. Three hundred years later, I am showing it to my friends. What a blessing!

Not only does God work in blessings but he works through his anointing. I believe that God gives specific anointing to people to further his kingdom, so why rewrite an already anointed writing that I have personally witnessed it change my life?

Even if this website gets shut down, it was worth it. Don't blow off beliefs or positions from other denominations, you can always ask God for a witness!
